HANDS-ON LEARNING WORKFORCE READY.

Find your voice with an Associate in Arts in English at Bismarck State College

You'll strengthen your writing, reading, and critical thinking skills while gaining a deeper appreciation for the power of the written word. Through engaging courses and a supportive learning community, you'll discover how your voice has value in today's global world of communication and ideas.

You'll also have opportunities beyond the classroom, including working on the student-produced newspaper and literary journal, giving you hands-on experience in communication and leadership.

PREPARING FOR SUCCESS IN YOUR DEGREE

If you're planning to study English, taking literature, journalism, and foreign language classes in high school will help prepare you. You'll also benefit from building a broad knowledge base in history, the arts, world cultures, philosophy, psychology, science and technology.

At BSC, you can take advantage of transfer agreements with several four-year institutions for English majors, including a cooperative agreement with Dickinson State University that allows you to work toward a bachelor's degree while continuing classes on the BSC campus.
