

Fabricators & Manufacturers Association Foundation Scholarship

The Fabricators & Manufacturers Association Foundation is an educational, research, and charitable organization serving the metal forming and fabricating industry. Contributions to the FMA Foundation fund scholarships for training in the trades, and grants for manufacturing summer camps for youth and for conducting research relating to metal forming and fabrication technology in manufacturing.

Fewer young people are going into the trades or aspiring to be engineers. No doubt the shortage of welders and machine operators has had an impact on your job and the company that employs you. Where will the next generation of skilled workers come from?

Now, in addition to the $5,000 traditional scholarships we offer, the FMA Foundation is pleased to introduce 10 new $500 scholarships for training in welding, metal fabricating, or engineering at a trade school or college!
